A Sentence Sermon

Of all the sights which can soften and humanize the heart of man, there is none that ought so surely to reach it as that of innocent children, enjoying the happiness which is their proper and natural portion.—Southy.

"What Can We Do?"

IN FOUR more weeks school will be out. Saturday of last week a group of school girls came in our office and with intense seriousness with which young girls ask their way out of a quandary, asked us, "WHAT CAN WE DO?" "School is going to be out soon and we will have no place to go to play, no place to go to enjoy our vacation, no place but the picture show. Why can't we have a playground with a swimming pool?" they asked us.

It's easy enough for us to give a man an evasive answer or we can just plain tell him to go jump in a lake. But you can't dismiss a group of children with a problem on their minds so easily.

Their problem, no matter how small, may seem trifling to us, but to them it is the most important thing in the world.

But the problem which confronts them is not a trifling one. As a matter of fact, it is a problem that is important to every citizen in Statesboro and Bulloch County. And one that should be worked out.

We've fought this battle for four years. The first two years were no so bad, for, with the co-operation of the Rotary Club, the Boy Scouts, the City Authorities, and Alfred Dorman, we managed to have a swimming pool. But two years ago when the swimming pool we had used was filled in under the march of progress.

And now summer is coming up and the children of Statesboro, the citizens of the future—new life which is to keep our city in the position which she now enjoys—a position envied by others anxious to replace her—your children, with nothing to occupy their minds but play.

With the first thrill of vacation over some will help their fathers, some will get summer jobs, some will go out to grandma's or Uncle Jim's. For them, well and good. For a while they will have something to keep them active.

BUT WHAT OF THE OTHERS?
They will have to remain at home and find their summer vacation on the streets, seek their entertainment and recreation in the picture shows, and the older ones at the "book joints."

Here is a group of young girls who are aware of the problem that means much to their happiness at the age when happiness means most. They are going to solve it in the most direct way they know.

They have a legitimate complaint, just as much so as a home owner who finds the street in front of his home in bad shape. They want a hearing. And anyone hearing their complaint and not going the limit to give them what they are asking deserves no place in their affection.

Oh, sure, we know it will take money to build a swimming pool and a playground! Lots of money! But can one name anything where the city would receive greater returns?

If $10,000 is spent to get one wayward child started on the right road to good citizenship, then that money would have been well spent!

It is an obligation of the city to provide recreational facilities for its children. But an obligation that is at the same time the city's best investment.

Let's not think lightly of the problem which is bothering our young people. Let's work it out with them. Let them know they are as much a part of Statesboro and Bulloch County as the Schools, the Churches, the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Girls' Business Club, the City Council, the Fire Department, the Police Department are a part of our community.

Let's provide them an answer to their question, "WHAT CAN WE DO?"

Good Will Ambassadors

MORE THAN one hundred and seventy-five women from all sections of the state of Georgia left Statesboro Thursday to return to their homes, to-tally exhausted but thoroughly happy over the forty-sixth annual convention of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs which was held here last week.

One hundred and seventy-five ambassadors of good-will for our city and county. Expressions from many of the ladies on the convention prove that Statesboro is one of the greatest towns in the state. Every lady who attended the meeting used superlatives in describing the reception given them and the hospitality extended them while they were here.

Every session of the convention was a highlight. Included on the program was the address of Mrs. Ralph Butler, president of the Georgia Federation; the address of Miss Craig McGeachy, attaché of the British Embassy in Washington, D. C.; the banquet Monday night at the Teachers College; the luncheon Tuesday noon, and the cabaret entertainment Wednesday night sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The ladies of the convention applauded delightfully the Jaycees' entertainment, declaring it to be the most pleasant departure from the usual type of entertainment ever offered by convention cities. The members of the local Woman's Club should be proud of their success as hostesses. We congratulate them on their wonderful work in pleasing the most fastidious group of people in the state.

It was the grand spirit of co-operation that existed among the members of the Statesboro Club and the people of Statesboro that made the whole affair the most talked-of convention held by the Federation in years.

Credit goes to no one or two or three of the Statesboro Woman's Club, but to every member, from the president, Mrs. Alfred Dorman, to the newest members.

To them we say, "A tough job, well done!"

Registered under the Selective Service Act his number came up recently and he was classified under A-1. He expects to be wearing the uniform of the U. S. Army in a very short time.

There is nothing much we can do about it except wish him a happy one-year service with his country. He is giving up what some would call a good job, to work for his native land at a very small amount. He will be gone a year, maybe longer—how knows?

We are sad over his leaving. We had the feeling that he was not working for us, but we were working all together. He is young and likes Statesboro—he had formed many new friendships here, and now he's in the Army.

But when he left Saturday of last week, he went willingly, with the knowledge that he was only doing his duty.

We wish him all the luck in his new life, under the guiding hand of his and our Uncle Sam.

Well Located

ANNOUNCEMENT was made last week by state agricultural leaders to the effect that Georgia farmers will benefit from the Army's new plan of purchasing perishable farm produce from central agencies in the Quartermaster Corps.

Under the proposed system, the army is accepting bids for specific lots of produce from commission merchants, brokers or farm co-operatives to supply needs of army camps.

With two large army camps within a radius of 55 miles from the center of Bulloch County, the farmers in this section are ideally located to benefit from this new set-up. With the new produce market planned for this section, to be located in the Cobb and Foxhall Tobacco Warehouse, it would seem that the farmer may be able to benefit from as well as share in the vast program for national defense.

They'll Learn!

WE COMMENT the city police department on its new drive to promote safe and sane driving in the city limits. Forty-two the first week and ninety the second week fined for exceeding the 25-mile-an-hour limit, should impress upon those inclined to drive faster than safety recommends that the police are taking the job seriously.

John McArthur, a member of the city council, it takes more sound judgment to build a happy home than a beautiful house.

Family Health Chat

By Dr. O. F. WHITMAN

WHAT IS TUBERCULOSIS?

Once it was called consumption, or the "wasting disease." Those with it lost weight, strength, color, and gradually wasted away. Today we know more about the disease and we are able to cure it long before it reaches the wasting stage. We can also prevent it. No longer do we call it consumption, but a disease of the lungs and scientific name—TUBERCULOSIS.

Tuberculosis is a catching disease. It is caused by a very small germ. People who have the disease spit out these germs or cough them up. If the germs get into the mouth or nose of a healthy person, he, too, may get the disease. The germs may be spread from one person to another in long, cold, dark, and damp places. The germ is very tiny and it is very hard to kill. It can live in milk for a long time. It can live in sputum for a long time. It can live in urine for a long time. It can live in sweat for a long time. It can live in tears for a long time. It can live in saliva for a long time. It can live in blood for a long time. It can live in bone for a long time. It can live in muscle for a long time. It can live in skin for a long time. It can live in hair for a long time. It can live in nails for a long time. It can live in sweat for a long time. It can live in tears for a long time. It can live in saliva for a long time. It can live in blood for a long time. It can live in bone for a long time. It can live in muscle for a long time. It can live in skin for a long time. It can live in hair for a long time. It can live in nails for a long time.

1. That this proclamation be published in one newspaper in each Congressional District of the State for two months previous to the time of holding the next general election, to-wit, on Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1941.

3. At said election those desiring to vote in favor of ratifying said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words, "For ratification of the amendment to Article 8, Section 2 of the Constitution of Georgia fixing the term of office of the State School Superintendent."

4. The returns of said election shall be certified to the Secretary of State, who shall canvass the same, ascertain the result of such election and certify the same to the Governor as provided by law.

5. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand at the State Capitol, Atlanta, Georgia, on this 28th day of March, A. D. 1941, and caused the Great Seal of the State to be hereunto affixed.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

Episcopal church held a celebration at Old Prince William Parish church and people assembled there from Maine to Florida. Only the walls are left standing, the church having been burned during the American Revolution. But Mrs. Kenan was more than a match for an efficient crew of clubwomen who reigned over the kitchen and they were afterward introduced by Mrs. Dorman. It goes without saying that they were greeted by applause and showered with praise for their excellent culinary art.

And now, let's take a paragraph for these Coleman brothers, Leopold, G. C. and Jim, who publish The Bulloch Herald, and give Stateboro and the county the best there is in journalism. They helped materially in putting over the forty-sixth convention of federated women by heralding the advent of the event a week in advance and published the picture of the servants' quarters extended in an almost unending line at the rear of the house—whose roof jutted down in front like some of those new hats. Across the road another crazy house was being built with its roof reared up in front.
